

SOCIETY

Mrs. C. G. Colburn was hostess this afternoon at an informal tea for her house guests, Mrs. L. C. Clark, of Galveston, Texas. The guests included the members of the Western Sorosis and the Nineteenth Century clubs, and a few people who have met Mrs. Clark at Ludington, Michigan, where she has a summer home.

The Clarke family lived in Topeka at one time, but left here for Galveston about fifteen years ago. During her residence in this city she belonged to two of the older clubs, Sorosis and the Nineteenth Century, being one of the early members of both organizations. She is now on her way north to spend the rest of the summer at Ludington, and among the friends who were invited to call this afternoon were members of the Topeka colony who have cottages at that place, and who have known Mrs. Clark during the years she lived here.

Mrs. Colburn was assisted by her sister, Mrs. R. T. Herrick, and also by Mrs. J. D. McFarland, one of the early members of Sorosis, and Mrs. H. R. Hightler and Mrs. Byron Davis, of the Nineteenth Century club. Mrs. Tom Frost presided at the table, and Mrs. Colburn's nieces, Miss Genevieve Herrick and Miss Sarcia Herrick, served.

Mrs. Clark wore a gown of black lace, and her corsage bouquet was of red roses.

A theatrical star in whom Topeka people are particularly interested, appears in town today in a movie film. The actress is Mrs. Hale Hamilton, the wife of Mr. Hamilton, formerly of Topeka, and the son of Mrs. J. D. McFarland. She is taking the leading role in a drama, "When the Mind Sleeps," being played today and tonight at the Aurora.

Mrs. Hamilton, who was formerly Miss Myrtle Tinchell, is playing under that name. She has starred in some popular plays in the east, and had a role in "A Pair of Shoes," one of the plays which contributed to Mr. Hamilton's fame.

Mrs. Hamilton has visited her husband's people in Topeka, both before and after her marriage.

Mrs. Thomas Greary was hostess at a small dinner party Tuesday night at her home in Harrison street.

Mrs. Koonitz, of Kansas City, who has been visiting Mrs. Bert Green, was the guest of honor at an informal afternoon, at which Mrs. Green was hostess. Mrs. Koonitz left Wednesday night for her home.

The Taka Art Embroidery club closed its meetings for the season by a luncheon at Mills' Tea room Wednesday. The members present were: Mrs. M. Alexander, Mrs. Benjamin Cuttler, Mrs. H. S. Kellar, Mrs. J. D. Heck, Mrs. J. M. Hanlon, Mrs. J. E. Hazen, Mrs. H. M. Ives, Mrs. J. J. King, Mrs. W. W. Samson, Mrs. H. L. Strohman, Mrs. A. M. Goodman, Mrs. J. W. McCartney and Miss May Alexander. After luncheon the women had a line party at the Aurora theater. The club will have some of its work on display next week at the Karlan furniture store.

The date of the wedding of Miss Ruth Woodford and Mr. Dean Davis, is set for Tuesday, July 12. The marriage will be solemnized at ten o'clock in the morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Woodford, 1509 Van Buren street, and will be quietly celebrated with only relatives as guests.

Miss Woodford and Mr. Davis graduated from Washburn college in the same class, that of 1912. Miss Woodford has been teaching in the Topeka high school, and Mr. Davis is connected with the Drovers' National bank of Kansas City. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Davis, of 1400 Topeka avenue.

Mrs. Jens Bugge was hostess at an informal party today at the Country club. The guests were asked to luncheon and thimbles, and included fourteen of Mrs. Bugge's close friends. The decorations for the rooms were garden flowers.

McClintock will accompany them with a company of friends from Kansas City to Chicago, where they will attend a house party to be given by Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Foster and their daughters, Miss Miriam Foster and Miss Ruth Foster, who are making a tour of the west, stopped at the Grand Canyon, and are now in Los Angeles. Mrs. Foster and her daughters are attending the meetings of the Ninth Biennial of the National Federation of Music Clubs, now being held in Los Angeles. A program at Trinity Auditorium which they attended, included compositions from American music writers, who themselves performed or conducted their own music. Arne Oldberg, of Chicago, conducted the orchestra which played his Symphony in C minor, which won the prize symphony for 1915; W. J. McCoy, of San Francisco, conducted the orchestra when it played his composition, Prelude Hamadryad, and Mrs. H. H. A. Beach played the piano part of her Concerto for piano orchestra. Arthur Foote and Arthur Farwell were represented also on the program.

A letter received this morning from Mrs. Foster will be of interest to the musical people of Topeka. She writes: "On last night's program, Arne Oldberg and Mrs. Beach recited tremendous ovations. At the concert Miriam, Ruth and I were surrounded by celebrities. In a box of our right were Carrie Jacobs Bond, Horatio Parker, whose ten thousand dollar prize opera, 'Fairland,' is to be given here with four performances, Mrs. Hamadryad, and Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, who figures prominently in the federation as Curator of the Music Department of the Los Angeles Ebell club. A little farther in front sat Carl Busch of Kansas City.

"On our way to the auditorium we met Misses Nelle and Sara Kouns and Miss Hazel Wing, who give a recital tonight at the Hotel Ingraham, under the direction of Miss Ethelyn Harrison.

"It was indeed a notable assembly. Conductor Mortz is from the Metropolitan Opera company orchestra of New York and was brought here by Horatio Parker to conduct his opera, 'Fairland.' Everyone is enthusiastically looking forward to hearing it. We have tickets for Friday night.

"I am finishing this letter on Mt. Lowe. After two days at the Grunwald, this seems small, but it is beautiful."
